

A Vacation Suggestion.

THE annual puzzle again is here. Of "Where in the world shall we go this year?" The mountains answer with views and rides. The shore talks back of its times and tides. The country tells of its peaceful ways—Each loud in the paeans of frank self praise. How simple 'twould be were each man to "stop." At the place whose name should suggest his "shop!"

There's Vineyard Haven for growers of grapes. Bay Head for the hatter to try his shapes. The haberdasher might like Prout's Neck; Long Beach or Short Hills for the man "in spec." Marblehead? For the sculptor, if you please. With the pianist touching the Tampa Keys. Stone Harbor for masons, while perhaps Block Island would suit the builder chaps. Should the angler tire of bleak Cape Cod, Let him seek Bass Rocks with his reel and rod. Deal Beach would receive the players of bridge. Plain "Friends" might summer 'long Quaker Ridge. Fire Island would seem to the fireman fit. Watch Hill with the "copper" might make a hit; Sullivan ought to delight the sports. And Sugar Hill sweeten the out-of-sorts. The temperance people Cold Spring might try. While the not so strict ones could go to Rye. Or the one might turn to the Water Gap. While Bar Harbor the other should entrap. Sad spinsters o'er the Blue Hills might roam; Young mothers at Rockaway feel at home; Sag Harbor for those who have no new clothes; Bell Beach for the girl with aplenty beaux. Point Comfort predicts for the lazy rest. Or they might seek sleep on Lake Placid's breast. Or, if it's the crowding guests that hurt, Try Shelter Island or Mount Desert. —Lippincott's Magazine.

Her Fear.

Lady (to vet)—Oh, Mr. Smith! Poor, dear, brave Edie bit a horrid man an hour ago. Do you think my darling will die?

Different Things.

A congressman from Illinois tells of the trials of a politician in that state whose wife is, according to his notions, a somewhat too ardent advocate of woman's suffrage. On one occasion, it appears, the better half was remonstrating with her husband for his adverse stand in the matter. "Mark my words," exclaimed she excitedly, "one of these fine days we women will rise in our might and demand a voice in the management of this country's affairs!" "For mercy's sake, don't say that!" retorted the politician, with assumed horror. "Be satisfied, my dear, if you secure the right to vote."—Woman's Home Companion.

Just the Boy For Papa.

"There is something," he said, "that I have wanted for a long time to tell you. I am not rich, as you know, but I am young, strong and willing to work. Miss Millyuns—Edith—I—" "Oh," she cried, "I will tell papa about you! I think I heard him say this morning that he wanted to hire an office boy with just the qualifications you mention."—Judge.

His Only Chance.

Gunner—Do you remember Colonel Bluffem, who was always boasting about going through three wars? Guyer—Yes. Gunner—Well, he has bought an automobile. Guyer—H'm! I suppose he is determined to kill one man before he passes in his chips.—Chicago News.

Going to Quit.

"Can I sell you one of our latest dictionaries?" asked the affable agent. "No," answered Mr. Cumrox. "I have been subscribing to all the dictionaries that came out, and they disagree with me so much about spelling and pronunciation that I'm tired of the argument."—Washington Star.

Escaped.

"I have here an article for your magazine." "Happy coincidence!" "What do you mean?" "The magazine has just suspended." —Philadelphia Ledger.

Double.

"What kind of pie will you have, Willie—mince or apple?" "I'll take two pieces of each, please." "Two pieces!" "Yes'm. Mamma told me not to ask twice."—New York Life.
